Module aims

During this module, students will learn the skills and characteristics of an effective leader. Students will learn how to apply leadership skills during change and in multicultural and diverse environments. The common thread throughout the module will be leading with strong managerial ethics, emotional intelligence, and reflective leadership. The module will also examine the relationship between contemporary leadership issues and classical leadership theory.

Module Learning Outcomes - at the end of this module, students will be able to:

1	Critically apply appropriate leadership skills and characteristics to evidence impact and engagement within organisational performance and corporate accountability.
2	Differentiate between leadership styles and motivational techniques to ensure strategic success and organisational improvement from a critical perspective.
3	Distinguish which leadership skills and characteristics are most important for leading during planned and unplanned organizational change through the lens of academic theory and analysis.
4	Critically discuss sustainable leadership, motivation, and ethical theories as a means of leading a successful organisation within the context of corporate social responsibility.

5	Distinguish which leadership skills and characteristics are most important for leading in diverse settings.
6.	Evaluate your personal leadership style and reflect on areas for improvement.

Learning and Teaching Strategies

The overall learning and teaching strategy is one of guided independent study, in the form of distance learning requiring ongoing student engagement. Online material will provide the foundation of the learning resources, to support a blended approach, requiring the students to log-in and engage on a regular basis throughout the eight-week period of the module. There will be a mix of recorded lectures and supporting notes/slides, containing embedded digital content and self-checks for students to complete as they work through the material and undertake the assessment tasks. The use of a range digital tools via the virtual learning environment together with additional sources of reading will also be utilised to accommodate learning styles. There is access to a helpline for additional support and chat facilities through Canvas for messaging and responding.
