Module aims

The module aims to assist student's development and understanding during critical incidents in practice that can impact students and the organisations development.

Learners will be expected to use critical reflection models to identify, analyse and discuss the topic, making recommendations for future practice and support their own role once in employment.

Module Learning Outcomes - at the end of this module, students will be able to:

1	Reflect on a critical incident and the impact on own professional learning through the use of online blogging resources.
2	Reflect on policies, procedures and/or guidelines relating to the impact on own professional learning.
3	Evaluate feedback and personal reflection from observations of own teaching practice.
4	Discuss interventions and strategies to support the diverse needs of learners in own practice.

Assessment

Indicative Assessment Tasks:

Learning Logs/Journals:

- Two reflective blogs - Students will reflect on their own professional development through the use of an online blog/journal.

(1000 words approximately)

Reflective Practice will include:

- A reflection on policy, procedures and/or guidelines which demonstrates and how they inform practice
- An overall reflection, informed by ongoing formative self-evaluations, which critically evaluates personal developments in teaching practice.
- A strategy designed to support the needs of a diverse range of learners, which draws upon own experience in practice.

(3000 words approximately)

Assessment number	Learning Outcomes to be met	Type of assessment	Weighting (%)
1	1	Learning logs/journals	Pass/refer
2	2-4	Reflective Practice	Pass/refer

Learning and Teaching Strategies

The module is taught through a combination of lectures and workshops. An active and inclusive approach is used to engage learners in the topics and will involve individual, group work and flipped learning experiences aligned to the university's Active Learning Framework (ALF). The approach offers students a flexible and adaptive learning experience that can accommodate a range of options that includes both on campus learning and remote learning where appropriate.

The Moodle VLE and other on-line materials and resources will be available to support learning. ALF offers a balance between the classroom elements and digitally enabled activity incorporating flexible and accessible resources and flexible and accessible feedback to support learning. In addition, work-based learning and observation of teaching practice will support students understanding of theory and practice in context.
