Module aims

To gain insight into self, and to appreciate the expectations regarding professional ethics and behaviour within an inter-professional context.

To support students to become reflective practitioners.

Develop practice of continuing personal and professional development and lifelong learning.

Module Learning Outcomes - at the end of this module, students will be able to:

1	Demonstrate insight into personal values, attributes and behaviours and their alignment to legal, ethical, professional and regulatory standards.
2	Demonstrate reflective skills in a personal and professional context.
3	Identify the political, social, economic and institutional factors that impact on practice.
4	Examine equality, diversity and allyship and its relevance to practice.

Assessment

Indicative Assessment Tasks:

This section outlines the type of assessment task the student will be expected to complete as part of the module. More details will be made available in the relevant academic year module handbook.

Summative – Students will complete a 15-minute reflective presentation, in a style of their choice. The presentation will focus upon their own personal and professional development and, insights gained over the course of the module. The presentation will conclude with a personal and professional learning needs plan with a focus on their upcoming placement.

Derogations

For BSc (Hons) Occupational Therapy, Paramedic Science and Operating Department Practice students:

All assessments must be successfully completed and a minimum pass mark of 40% must be achieved in all modules, therefore condonement is not permitted.

Students are permitted a third attempt at non placement modules but students who submit an assessment for the third time (in absence of extenuating circumstances) must engage fully with the module learning again in order to submit.

For BSc (Hons) Physiotherapy students:

Students are permitted a maximum of two attempts in any module assessment. A minimum pass mark of 40% must be achieved in all modules, therefore condonement is not permitted.

Learning and Teaching Strategies

This module combines a range of learning methods, reflecting the learning and teaching philosophy of the programme, to enable the student to achieve the learning outcomes. The focus is upon inter-professional learning, both with and from each other.

Methods utilised will include the following:

- Experiential and practical inter professional workshops
- Keynote lectures
- Inter professional tutorials and seminar group discussions
- Peer led presentations
- Reflection
- Expert by experience narrative

Module content will include pre-recorded asynchronous online content that will inform synchronous 'workshop' sessions. This will allow students time to reflect on and further develop their knowledge ahead of consolidating their learning through group discussion and discovery with their inter professional peers. Expert by experience participants will provide a key narrative and opportunity for reflection. Students will explore the development of professional identity underpinned with philosophies, values and beliefs.

All learning and teaching is supported by the University's virtual learning environment, Moodle and students will be able to access clear and timely information to support delivery of content such as videos, links to internet information, open forums and pre-recorded lectures.

The University's Active Learning Framework (ALF) is embedded within the module to achieve optimal accessibility, inclusivity and flexibility in terms of how we teach, learn and assess in line with the principles of Universal Design for Learning (UDL). A learning blend is used that combines synchronous and asynchronous digitally-enabled learning with best use of online opportunities and on-campus spaces and facilities.
